The pack met at the 5th Avenue Kitchen and Tap located at of all places on 5th Avenue, to welcome the return of Fuck of the Irish and Crooner

Screwher, who were visiting from Boston to warm up. They introduced a couple of Boston traditions including the Group Hug Check, the Song Check and the Hash Centipede Check.

Trail headed northwest and ended up circling around so that the trail came to the Spruce Street Suspension Bridge from the west to the 1st beer check at the other side of the bridge. From there, trail headed east into Balboa Park and down to the canyon alongside Highway 163 to the 2nd beer check. Then it was back up out of the canyon and to the on-in.
